Foreword

THE EXCELLENT co-operation of all church officials in submitting data for the 1951 Mennonite Yearbook is deeply appreciated by the editor. The editor also wishes to express sincere appreciation to Betty Weber for the painstaking care and careful work in assisting in the compilation of the data in this issue as well as in preceding issues since 1945.

We believe that the 1951 Mennonite Yearbook will again be received throughout the church as an invaluable handbook and source book of information of all phases of activities in the Mennonite Church.

Your attention is called to three new items this year: (1) A membership table arranged by conferences showing gains and losses. (2) A list of twenty-five periodicals published by district conferences and church organizations. (3) A ministerial directory for the Mennonite Church in Germany.

It is our prayer that the 1951 Mennonite Yearbook will serve to inspire and challenge each individual member to a more devoted service to Christ and the church.

Mennonite General Conference

By Oscar Burkholder, Moderator

The General Council

Article V in the Constitution of Mennonite General Conference describes the membership, organization, finances, and functions of the General Council. The Constitution was published in the 1950 Mennonite Yearbook, pp. 5-8. This important organization within the organization of General Conference carries on the work of General Conference between its regular sessions. Since General Conference met in 1949, and, ordinarily, will meet again in 1951, the year 1950 was the so-called off year. However, the General Council has had three meetings, one in the fall of 1949 and one each in the spring and fall of 1950. It will be well for you to read Article V of the Constitution of Mennonite General Conference which gives information on the General Council. This will help you understand the membership of the General Council.

These brethren are responsible for the work of General Conference between sessions. They are responsible also for the unfinished work of the previous sessions of General Conference. This responsibility includes the execution of specific orders of General Conference as well as the continuous work of its boards and committees. The General Council also is the body to which emergency questions come, and with which they are obliged to wrestle. If emergencies arise that seem too important for the General Council to deal with, there is always the recourse to special sessions of General Conference. For example, such a special session was called in 1944 at Goshen, Indiana, and another at Souderton, Pennsylvania, in 1946 during World War II.

There has been no need to call special sessions of General Conference since 1946, but no one knows how soon it may become necessary. Conditions in the world look very dark at this writing, and one cannot tell what a day may bring forth. Your General Council needs the constant and faithful support of the entire church in keeping us before the throne of God, for He is the One who rules heaven and earth, and upon Him we all depend.

The first session of the General Council was held in Chicago, Illinois, December 9, 10, 1949. A short description of this meeting will show the pattern of succeeding meetings, a pattern which we hope will meet the approval of all who are concerned for the welfare of the Mennonite Church and her witness to a dying world.

One of our first concerns was meditation and prayer. Accordingly about a half hour at the beginning of each of the five sessions was devoted to meditation and prayer. We believe that this spiritual exercise had a great deal to do with the harmony and progress of the five sessions. We then located ourselves and our responsibilities as we were led by Paul Mininger in a review of the steps and reasons for the present General Conference constitution, and the General Council in particular.

Our next major concern was a complete picture of the work of our boards and committees. As each representative was called, and the work of his respective organization was laid before us, all members began to realize more than ever the greatness and the rightness of the work of the Mennonite Church. We also began to see more clearly that success lies ahead if we use all the resources we have at our command, and use them "as labourers together with God."

Some of the major concerns of the Council were then discussed. Among these were: the nature of future General Conference meetings; methods by which the Council shall do its work; the gathering in of the nonaffiliated district conferences; women members on the various boards; the carry-over items from the past General Conference held in Harrisonburg, Virginia, in 1949.

In the second meeting of the Council held in Chicago, April 20-21, 1950, a similar program of meditation and prayer was carried through each session. The questions raised in the past meeting were further discussed. To these the following subjects were added: representation at the fifth Mennonite World Conference to be held in Switzerland, August 10-15, 1952; consideration of visits to Mennonite groups in western Canada and Mexico; time and place of the next General Conference; further reports from the various boards and committees; concern for the falling off in missionary giving; a history of Mennonite General Conference; adherence to the standards and practices of the General Conference.

In the third meeting, held in Chicago, October 17, 18, 1950, each session was begun with Bible meditation and prayer with the same pleasing and beneficial results as obtained in the previous meetings. Again our procedure was a continuation of the work begun and continued in previous meetings, with the addition of the following subjects: maintaining Christian relationships among Christian workers; the peace program of the church in the present wartime; the advisability of a prophecy conference; and organizational relationships with other religious groups. A number of questions were postponed till April, 1951, meeting.

While there is much routine work which we have not mentioned and which is necessary in order to do the work in the best manner, we believe these pioneer sessions of the General Council of Mennonite General Conference will bear much fruit in the days and years ahead, if the Lord tarries. May every member of the Mennonite Church concern himself with the work of the church, and may such concern send us all to prayer to God for the sufficiency of His grace to meet and overcome the powers of evil. To Him be glory for the privilege to serve, and to Him be glory and honor for all that has been, and will be, accomplished.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

By J. D. Graber, Secretary and Field Worker

As of December, 1950, the various fields in which the Board activities are carried on together with the number of missionaries in each field are as follows:

India

Madhya Pradesh:
29 on field 4 on furlough 7 on retirement
Bihar:
10 on field 2 on furlough 0 on retirement

Argentina

Central Argentina:
18 on field 4 on furlough 4 on retirement
Chaco:
6 on field 2 on furlough 0 on retirement

China

6 on field 0 on furlough 0 on retirement

Japan

4 on field 0 on furlough 0 on retirement

Puerto Rico

17 on field 0 on furlough 0 on retirement

Belgium

2 on field 0 on furlough 0 on retirement

These figures indicate that the Mennonite Church, through its General Board, has ninety-two missionaries on the various fields, twelve on furlough, and eleven on retirement in the United States. If to these are added the forty-one which the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities has under appointment in several foreign fields, we have a grand total of 156 foreign missionaries of the Mennonite Church at the present time. This seems like a large number, but when we divide this figure into 62,719, the total constituency in the United States and Canada, it comes to 2.4 foreign missionaries per thousand membership. This is not an impressive figure.

Foreign missions, of course, do not represent the total Mennonite mission activity. Far from it. The General Board administers directly nine city missions, two among Negro people in the city, three among Mexicans in the United States, and one rural mission with evangelistic, school, health, and farming aspects at Culp, Arkansas. In all this endeavor approximately one hundred appointed missionaries, teachers, and workers are serving. But turn to page 40 to the list of home missions in this Yearbook and note that there are perhaps 250 missions administered by district boards with an approximate total of 600 missionaries in service. The number of congregational mission outposts established during the past few years is almost phenomenal. For many years such an outpost was rare, indeed, but by 1950 we do not come too far short of achieving the ideal, "A Mission Outpost for Every Congregation."

The picture thus begins to look more satisfactory. But, in actual reality, as a church, we are just getting started. As an interested unordained brother wrote me not long ago, "We cannot live up to the Anabaptist vision until we get a genuine and widespread laymen's missionary movement vitally at work in our churches." There are encouraging beginnings in a few places, but the movement needs to grow much stronger. Doing personal work on one's own as a personal responsibility is good, but if lay men and women would go out two by two as part of a concerted movement within the church and invite their neighbors to accept Christ in the name of the entire brotherhood, being sure that the brotherhood is ready to welcome "outsiders" in, the appeal would be much stronger, and a steady stream of new accessions could be expected.

Local mission outposts and active laymen's missionary movements are welcomed by the general Mission Board because we know that when missions and evangelism really get going at the grass roots, the foreign and city mission programs will not want for volunteers nor for support.

Administration

The administration of the general Mission Board is becoming increasingly complex as the size of the program increases. We now have three full-time executive officers—Secretary, Treasurer, and Secretary for Service and Relief.

Administrative visits need to be made to the various missions and institutions in this country from time to time, and occasionally the work in the foreign fields requires a visit by one of the Board officers. During the winter of 1949-50 the Secretary visited Japan where a new work is being set up. The Secretary for Service and Relief made a trip to Puerto Rico, especially to consummate the transfer of the La Plata Service Project from the Mennonite Central Committee to the Mennonite Relief Committee. During the winter of 1950-51 the Secretary was again commissioned to go to India to give counsel and help in the church-mission relation problems. From India he went to Japan to advise our missionaries there in the final selection of a field of labor and the determining of some fundamental mission policies. The Treasurer and Secretary for Service and Relief have been appointed again to go to Puerto Rico to work out a series of questions and policies with the missionaries and service workers on the field.

Seven rooms in the Administration Headquarters at 1711 Prairie Street, Elkhart, Indiana, are at present being used for offices besides the archives room in the basement and the mimeographing room in the attic. Six girls are working in the offices and, due to the pressure of work, we feel we are still understaffed. It is difficult to imagine the administrative and bookkeeping detail that accumulates in the central offices until one lives with it for a while. After all, here every contribution is acknowledged and recorded. Checks go out regularly to missionaries and to missions in all parts of the world. Voluminous correspondence is carried on. Policies are worked out, publicity is produced, problems are dealt with, to say nothing of special supports (there are 180 of them in the card index), missionary savings banks (more than 15,000 were mailed out this year), etc. We believe the church expects that the business aspect of missions be done well. It is not an end in itself but simply the means that must release the resources of the church for effective outreach if it would fulfill its function.

The New Day

In the administration of foreign missions one becomes conscious of a rapidly and a radically changing world situation. The Gospel remains the same, but the temperament of the people in mission lands newly conscious of political independence is changed. It is no longer an asset to the Gospel that is being brought to the East from the West. The balance of world influence is shifting Eastward and this creates a new setting in which the foreign missionary from America must work. Some of these adjustments are difficult, but we have faith to believe that when the Gospel is more fully disentangled from Western civilization and Western cultures it will all the more effectively be the power of God unto salvation.

Institutions

The Board administers two old people's homes at Rittman, Ohio, and Eureka, Illinois; two children's homes at West Liberty, Ohio, and Kansas City, Kansas; one summer camp for underprivileged children at White Pigeon in southern Michigan; and three hospitals at La Junta, Colorado; Lebanon, Oregon; and Greensburg, Kansas. All these institutions are but vehicles and channels for the expression of Christian love and witness. As such we believe they have all been effective.

The Child Welfare aspect of the work continues to prosper under the direction of the Child Welfare Committee, made up mostly of interested and qualified lay people. At Kansas City a new home for the superintendent is being built. At West Liberty nearly $20,000 are being spent in a rather complete renovation of the plant as ordered by the state inspectors. At Youth Village in southern Michigan the necessary buildings were erected, largely by Service Unit labor, for the accommodation of thirty-two children in a summer camp. Several young people are either in training or have completed their courses in Child Welfare in university. The fact that we are getting trained personnel into this work will make it possible to develop more fully the program of foster home placement as well as full adoption into our Mennonite homes of needy or abandoned children.

Our hospital program is being progressively strengthened. Communities and cities are finding more and more that it is easier to raise the money to build and equip hospitals than it is to staff and operate them. During the year we again were forced to turn down several invitations from communities willing to turn over to us hospital facilities if we would undertake staffing and administration. In July of this year we assumed responsibility for the hospital at Lebanon, Oregon, from the Pacific Coast Conference Mennonite District Mission Board.

Our Executive Committee in one of its meetings drew up the following brief statement of policy relative to hospital work:

(a) The Board operates and administers hospitals because we believe they offer a practical opportunity for the expression of Christian love and afford an effective avenue of Christian witness.

(b) Hospital building is a community responsibility, and general church funds should be used for hospital building only where the institution fits into a definite mission program or where it is a required part of a church nursing school program.

(c) The Board will consider undertaking the staffing and administration of hospitals offered by communities as personnel appears to be available and as the community underwrites possible operating deficits.

Support

The general Mission Board, with the slight exception of a small amount of endowment income, has only the money to spend on missions and institutional projects contributed by our membership. Sometimes we hear the statement, "The Mission Board supports this work so we can direct our contributions elsewhere." Such a statement is, of course, completely contrary to fact. The Board is simply the channel through which the gifts and offerings of the brotherhood can be directed to mission causes. Missionaries and their children are cared for wherever they can be assigned by special individual supports. Shares of varying amounts are advertised in our literature for the evangelistic, national worker, school, hospital, literature, and other branches of the work. These shares and special supports can be assumed by individuals, Sunday-school classes, Sunday schools, churches, or other groups. In addition, offerings are solicited for special needs and for the General Mission Fund from which funds are allocated by the Executive Committee to the place of greatest need.

We thank our brotherhood for their faithful and loyal support during the past year and years. We trust we may always be worthy of the confidence of the brotherhood so that the entire church can use effectively the vehicle of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities for carrying out the Great Commission.

Mennonite Relief Committee

By Levi C. Hartzler, Secretary for Service and Relief

The Mennonite Relief Committee is elected annually by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to administer the relief and service interests of the Board. We believe that such a relationship between evangelism and service is Scriptural because Jesus commissioned His disciples to preach the Gospel and to heal the sick. See Mark 3:14, 15; Matt. 10:7, 8; Luke 10:9. Furthermore, constant unalleviated suffering in our world provides opportunity for a Christian service program as a means of evangelism. In addition, growing world materialism accompanied by individual selfishness underscores the witness value of Christian service. With an increasing number of consecrated young people desiring opportunities for service and with our growing material wealth as a church, should we not take pains to heed the command of Jesus in Matthew 10:8, "Freely ye have received, freely give"?

Relief

M.R.C. co-operates with the Mennonite Central Committee in the areas of foreign relief and refugee resettlement, maintaining a regular monthly budget for the M.C.C. in these areas as funds are available. All goods in kind for relief are dispensed directly to M.C.C. warehouses for transportation overseas. The advantages of a central all-Mennonite agency for contacting governments, administering finances, processing and shipping relief supplies are self-evident. In addition to the support given for the M.C.C. relief and refugee program, the M.R.C. continued to provide funds and personnel for two units which it administered through the M.C.C.

The relief unit in Belgium was closed out October 1 when the new missionaries, Brother and Sister David Shank, took over the work. Until that time the relief center in Brussels with three workers was maintained and work among the displaced persons in co-operation with Pastor Grikman continued. This co-operation included financial support for several of Grikman's workers, relief supplies for the displaced persons, and transportation to the camps with supplies for distribution. Gospel literature and Bibles were distributed along with the relief supplies. A fourth worker served in a local children's home near Brussels and has now transferred to the M.C.C. children's home at Weiler, France.

The unit in Ethiopia continued to function in two areas of service throughout the year: health service and education. At the Nazareth headquarters the unit operated a hospital and clinic, carrying on a spiritual witness through Bible classes for native workers and co-operating in every way possible with the mission program under the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Several new workers were sent over during the year to replace those completing their terms. Most of the support for the health service at Nazareth comes from medical fees and teachers' salaries, teachers who have been appointed by the Relief Committee and accepted by the Ethiopian government to teach in government schools. These young people serve on the same basis as the regular relief workers, turning in their salaries to the unit.

Plans are now under way to transfer the total program in Ethiopia to the Eastern Board when the present contract with the Ethiopian government for the operation of the hospital at Nazareth expires the last of March, 1951.

Voluntary Service

Voluntary service is the peacetime counterpart of relief and alternative service in wartime. M.R.C. continues its program of long and short term service units in order to meet continuing need in our world, to give a positive absolute love (nonresistant) testimony, and to provide opportunities of service for an increasing number of consecrated young people and opportunities for sharing with the needy the increasing wealth of the church.

On January 1, 1950, M.R.C. took over the La Plata Mennonite Project, La Plata, Puerto Rico, from the M.C.C., thus bringing under the administration of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities the total program in Puerto Rico. The La Plata Project includes a health service—a thirty-six-bed hospital and clinics; a community service—a kindergarten, industrial projects, recreation, sanitation, community paper; and an agriculture program to provide food for the unit and to assist the local farmers in improving their farming methods as well as improving their livestock. About thirty continental young people and thirty-five Puerto Ricans work in the project which is intended to provide a service witness for the mission program. The term of service is two years for regular workers. The director and matron, agricultural director and supervisor of nurses are on a continuing basis.

The annual cost of operating this project is approximately $65,000.00. The Puerto Rican government provides about $20,000.00 in subsidy for the hospital, depending on the number of patients served during the year; the project earns about $20,000.00 annually through its medical service and agriculture program; the other $20,000.00 for operating and $5,000.00 for amortizing property and equipment acquired at the time of the transfer is made up from funds received from our churches through offerings for relief and service.

The Kansas City Hospital unit is a long term unit in which the term of service is one year. Unit members serve as attendants in the hospital and participate in the local mission program. They maintain a wholesome unit life at the unit home, 2515 Holmes Ave., Kansas City 8, Mo. The normal size of the unit is eleven—five men and six women; one of the women serves as housekeeper for the unit.

The short term service program includes units in children's homes, children's camps, city missions, rural missions, and old people's homes. It also includes builders' units, colporteur teams, and youth teams. During the winter, builders' units are operated for the benefit of young men from the farms who would like to give some type of service. During the winter of 1949-50, units operated at La Junta, Colorado, on the nurses' home, and at Hesston, Kansas, on the science hall. During the winter of 1950-51, units operated at Pueblo, Colorado, on a mission pastor's residence, and at Hesston College and at Goshen College.

During the summer of 1950, 124 young people served in 25 different units: city mission, 8; rural mission, 7; child welfare, 4; hospitals, 3; old people's home, 2; builders, 1. In the Bible schools conducted by service unit workers the following racial groups were served: white, 11 schools; Negro, 9 schools; Mexican, two schools; American Indian, one school. One hundred forty-nine decisions for Christ were reported by summer service workers.

Because of the present world emergency the General Council of General Conference in October, 1950, asked M.R.C. to enlarge its voluntary service program. Steps are being taken to get another full-time man in administration. Further plans are being made to set up a training program for voluntary service workers at Elkhart.

In order to enlarge the program, more finances will be needed. Contributions for relief and service are decreasing. The average for the first six months of our present fiscal year, April through September, was a little over $8,000.00 per month. October was still lower. We will need $12,000.00 to $15,000.00 per month from our constituency if we are going to operate a program adequate to take care of the increasing number of young people who desire some type of service as a witness to their Christian faith in a militaristic world. We suggest as a goal for giving, one offering per month for relief and service in every congregation.

Peace Problems Committee

By Ernest W. Lehman

The Peace Problems Committee held two regular meetings during 1950, on June 10 and November 9, and two special meetings of the United States section of the committee, on September 28 and October 12. Major concerns in these meetings included peace literature writing projects, the Detroit and Winona Lake conferences, provision for conscientious objectors under the draft law, Voluntary Service as a peace witness, and peace education. The personnel of the committee remained unchanged from the previous year.

The Draft

Young men classified as conscientious objectors to all forms of military service continue to be deferred. With the coming of the Korean emergency the draft was activated in terms of classification and induction, and as a result of this more young men therefore needed assistance in securing the proper recognition under the draft law. In July, 1950, the Selective Service Act of 1948 was extended for a one-year period. The committee used the services of the Mennonite Central Committee Peace Section and the National Service Board for Religious Objectors to keep informed on legislation and other developments, and in contacts for giving testimony.

On January 31, 1950, Harold S. Bender, chairman of the Peace Problems Committee, gave testimony on behalf of the M.C.C. Peace Section before the House Armed Services Committee on the concern against the extension of the Selective Service Act. Likewise on August 22, 1950, Dr. H. Clair Amstutz, on behalf of the Mennonite Medical Association, testified before a subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee on the concern that in the "doctors' draft" there should be adequate provision for doctors who are conscientious objectors. This bill to require registration and induction of certain doctors, dentists, and other allied specialists became law on September 9, with specific provision that the conscientious objector provision of the general draft law should apply to this special draft.

Voluntary Service

"Believing that those who would follow Christ in full discipleship in the way of peace and love are at all times called to serve the needs of the world both spiritual and material in the name and spirit of Christ but particularly so in a time of world distress and emergency such as the present," the committee felt led to "call upon our churches, and particularly all young men and women, to enlarge their ministry of service with a deepened sense of responsibility. This should mean more persons in service, longer periods of service, and more service to those outside of our fold in our communities, our country, and the needy areas of the world beyond. It does not mean service taken up under pressure without a clear and sincere Christian purpose, nor the abandonment without call of present significant Christian work or preparation for greater usefulness in service. It does mean that all of our young people, however, whose family and life circumstances permit, particularly between the ages of 19 to 25, and older, should seriously face the question before God whether they should not now offer themselves for a substantial period of direct special service, both to meet the needs of their fellow men and to give a further witness for Christ and His Gospel. It will mean that significant work projects must be provided by the church which will of themselves be both valuable in service and give good room for Christian witness in the life and spirit of the worker as well. Christian love and redemptive action must find expression in our ministry of service now more than ever before in view of the spirit of the times which emphasizes the use of force in war attempts to solve current problems."

Detroit and Winona Lake Conferences

A conference on "The Church and War" was held at Detroit, Michigan, on May 8 to 11, 1950, called by the historic peace churches and peace fellowships in other churches. Of the 400 delegates and observers, 39 were from Mennonite branches, and of these, eleven were named by the Peace Problems Committee. Harold S. Bender wrote one of the study papers for the conference, entitled "One Program of Christian Pacifism." Other committee members took part in discussions and committees. The conference, though representing churches of divergent doctrinal positions, proved to be a place where it was felt that a witness could be given, both to the conference itself and through the conference, to churches represented. After the conference a number of regional meetings have been held by interested churches.

Partially in view of needs felt at the Detroit Conference, it was urged that the Mennonite churches should meet in a conference to study more intensively the present-day implications of the nonresistant position. This conference was held at Winona Lake, Indiana, November 9 to 12, 1950. Twenty-six delegates were named by the Peace Problems Committee. Among the subjects considered were: "Nonresistance and the Gospel," "What about the Noncombatant Position?" "C.P.S. and A.S.W.—Past and Future," and "Nonresistance and Missions." A conference statement entitled, "A Declaration of Christian Faith and Commitment," was adopted as a message to the congregations both at home and elsewhere.

Peace Essay Contest

A new project in peace teaching, inaugurated in connection with Mennonite high schools, was that of a peace essay contest. Rules and prizes were determined by the committee, and announcement made through the school principals. Eleven essays were submitted. For the three entries that were judged best, there were awards of either Service for Peace or War, Peace, and Nonresistance plus a small cash prize. (The books were donated by the Mennonite Publishing House and the money by interested persons.) The essays were made available for publication.

New Peace Literature

During the year continued effort was made in bringing to completion additional Scripturally sound peace literature. A revised edition of Studies in Nonresistance by John E. Lapp was planned. From Military Service to Christian Nonresistance, by Pierre Widmer, a French Mennonite minister, was printed for distribution. Heroes of Nonresistance, by Elizabeth Bauman is in manuscript. The Mennonite Church in the Second World War, by Guy F. Hershberger, is set in type. Answer to War, a condensation of the book, War, Peace, and Nonresistance by Hershberger, is being written by Millard Lind, particularly for use by study classes.

Finances

The report of the treasurer to the committee on October 20, 1949, indicated a balance of $797.86. During the year, up to November 8, 1950, receipts amounted to $9,119.14 and disbursements totalled $8,547.26, leaving a balance of $1,369.74. The budget approved for the following year, 1951, was set at $10,000 to cover the anticipated expense of the committee work.

Mennonite Board of Education

By Nelson E. Kauffman, President

The work of the Board of Education has been carried on since the last annual meeting by the Executive Committee, according to the constitutional provisions. The Executive Committee held seven meetings during the year, 1949-1950. Copies of the minutes of the Executive Committee are sent regularly to all members.

Personnel

New staff members have been added to each of our institutions. Ernest E. Miller, President of Goshen College, has been granted sabbatical leave for one year. During his absence, Carl Kreider is serving as Acting President, and Paul Bender, as Acting Dean. J. H. Mosemann has been elected pastor of the Goshen College congregation to serve half-time. The other half of his time he gives to the Seminary. Milo Kauffman has resigned as President of Hesston College. The Executive Committee has accepted his resignation, to be effective in the fall of 1951, provided other arrangements can be made for his successor. Lester Culp has been added to the Hesston staff to begin an agricultural program. Members of the faculty of both of our institutions are on leave of absence for further study. New staff members are still in preparation for service on our faculties.

Studies

The religious welfare surveys in each of our colleges are continuing and will likely be completed this year. The Executive Committee appointed an Agricultural Study Committee to bring recommendations to the Executive Committee on an agricultural program for our colleges. This meeting was held and recommendations were made. The General Council of General Conference has been asked to study the matter of women serving on our church boards. The Council approved of women serving on church boards if women serve in representing work done only by women.

A savings plan for parents who would like to provide funds for their children when they reach college age has been approved by the Board. Studies were made on:

Conrad Grebel Lectureship

This lectureship is to provide for the preparation of a series of lectures annually on any subject of Mennonite history, doctrine, life, or practice. The lectures are then to be published.

Nursing Schools

Forty-seven prenursing students were enrolled in our three colleges in September, 1950. The La Junta nurses moved into the new dormitory during the past year. The new educational unit, which is an annex to the new dormitory, was also occupied in the fall of 1950. The present freshman class at La Junta numbers only twelve. A subcommittee of the Executive Committee is assigned the task of studying how to meet the financial, personnel, and student needs of the La Junta School of Nursing.

The Goshen College Nursing Education program is proceeding according to plan. Eight girls are beginning their second year of this course, which involves clinical experience in the Elkhart Hospital. A contract between the Board of Education and the Elkhart Hospital has been signed during the year.

Buildings

The Goshen College Auditorium—Gymnasium building has been completed and dedicated during the year. It is now known as the College Union Building. Building operations have begun on the girls' dormitory.

The Science Hall at Hesston College is under roof and operations to finish the building are planned to be resumed soon after January 1, 1951.

Both schools feel that the next building on their building program should be a Church-Bible School Building.

Councils

The Councils provided for in the Constitution have been functioning during the year. It is with a sense of deep satisfaction and gratitude to the Lord that we observe how these Councils are carrying forward in their various assignments. The expansion of the educational program in the Mennonite Church continues with various conferences taking steps toward high schools. This expansion indicates the interest and concern which the church has for the education of her young people. At the same time it also presents some real problems to the church.

The General Council of the Board of Education has authorized the preparation of a Mennonite philosophy of education. This will be the subject of the first Conrad Grebel Lectures, to be ready by May, 1952. It will be a great help in guiding the further expansion of the educational program of our church in all areas and in all levels of education. The needs of the Board and her institutions are occasions for sincere prayer on the part of every Board member as well as our entire brotherhood. Revisions of the Constitution as authorized by the 1949 annual meeting have been adopted. The personnel, student, and financial needs are great. It is the deep desire of the Executive Committee to carry forward in this work and in cooperation with our entire church that the Lord may use our educational program for the glory of His name and the extension of His kingdom until Jesus Christ comes.

Mennonite Publication Board

By John C. Wenger, President

The Publication Board is composed of twenty district conference appointees, five members at large, and three General Conference appointees, plus the Publishing Agent of the Board. "The object of this Board is to produce, publish, and distribute wholesome and Scripturally sound literature which shall contribute to the spread of the Gospel for the salvation of souls and the building up of Christian character; to maintain a Publishing House and bookstores; and to carry on any other activities through which it can most effectively serve the constituency, advance the cause of Christ, and promote Scriptural unity in the church." God has again blessed the work of the Board during another year, and His shall be the glory for whatever He has accomplished through His servants, the Board members, the Publishing Agent, and all the employees who are serving in this area of His kingdom.

At the August, 1950, meeting, Simon Gingerich who had served for ten years as president of the Board declined to serve as candidate for re-election. In gratitude for his fine service the Board adopted a resolution of appreciation. The following are the present officers of the Board: President, J. C. Wenger; Vice-President, Harold Bauman; Secretary, Harold Zehr; Treasurer, L. S. Martin; and Fifth Member, Harvey Bauman. A. J. Metzler continues to serve as Publishing Agent for the Board. The Publishing Committee consists of Paul Erb, Chairman; J. C. Wenger, Secretary; J. L. Stauffer, Howard H. Charles, and John E. Lapp. During the period in which Howard Charles is abroad for advanced study, Harold S. Bender is serving in his place on the Publishing Committee.

"Since the Curriculum Committee has labored so strenuously and faithfully in planning and providing for the new Sunday-school curriculum, including the graded lessons with other additional helps, which help to make the teaching of our Sunday schools more effective and hence more efficient, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we as a Board express our appreciation to the said committee for their labors, and pray that God may bless the efforts that have been put forth. Be it further

"Resolved, That in the use of these revised materials, we continue our emphasis on the Word of God in our Sunday-school teaching."

Periodicals Study Committee

One of the decisions arrived at by the Board in August was to have a Periodicals Study Committee to make a survey of the entire field of what is needed by way of magazines and journals and evaluate our present offerings of periodicals. The Executive Committee appointed the following to serve in this capacity: Paul Erb, Nelson Kauffman, Roy S. Koch, J. L. Stauffer, and Ellrose D. Zook.

The fiscal year of the House and Board has now been made to coincide with the calendar year, a change which is an advantage in a number of ways.

In October, 1950, the Board officers polled the members of the Board as to when the next meeting of the Board should be held. In view of the change of date for the annual Board meeting from August to February, and in view of the high cost of calling the Board together from various points in United States and Canada, and since the last meeting was held in August, 1950, and since the Board used to meet only every other year, the Board voted to hold its next meeting in February, 1952. This means that the terms of elected personnel will be extended accordingly.

The operation of a huge business enterprise such as Mennonite Publishing House and its branch stores requires careful management and planning in view of rising prices, larger inventories, etc. But even more must the Board travail in prayer for the blessing of God to rest upon the work of the House that the spiritual vision of the entire force of employees may be clear and undimmed. To this end the Board craves the prayers of the brotherhood.

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education

By John R. Mumaw, Chairman

The teaching function of the church holds for the Commission a challenge to constant action. We believe experience with God is a privilege that must be promoted from generation to generation by the Spirit's own operation. We also recognize that He works through channels of human communication and that the local congregation is the most strategic unit in the kingdom of God to carry on this function. The Commission has been set up to keep those channels of communication open and to provide instruments of learning for effective teaching service in the local congregation.

The church's teaching task embraces a wide scope of responsibility. To fulfill her educative mission she must provide experience on all levels of human development. She must be prepared to supply a great variety of personal needs in many people. She has the unending task of guiding disciples and their children into eternal fellowship with God as well as into peaceful fellowship with man. She must also realize the evangelistic purpose of teaching. The Commission is laboring with those agencies in the local congregation which have to do with these purposes.

The Sunday School

The Sunday school continues to retain the major role in the teaching program of the church. It serves the widest range of interest and enrolls the greatest variety of pupils. We have supplied the Sunday school with additional teaching materials and we are seeking to provide the kind of materials and guidance for training that will produce better teachers to perform their task. Special efforts have been made to ascertain the points of weakness that need strengthening and to find ways and means of improving this work.

Young People's Bible Meetings

This agency of instruction and experience for the youth of the church continues to need guidance and vision. The Program Builder has met a great need in this area, and we seek to improve its service to the leaders of local organizations. Special effort is being made to survey the work of the young people's Bible meetings and to ascertain the wishes of our constituency in forming the pattern of meeting which should obtain in our Sunday evening service.

Summer Bible School

The summer Bible school movement is growing with a steady stream of increased enrollment. The new materials for use in these schools have been a great asset to encourage and strengthen the many schools of our church. We are pleased with the evaluation of these materials and with the wide use they have gained in the church and beyond our own communion.

Young People's Activities

The organization of Mennonite Youth Fellowship has become well established in many sections of the church. In other districts the congregations have co-ordinated the existing organizations to serve the same purposes. We believe the several areas of interest represented in the program of M.Y.F. provides a suitable outlet of expression and training for the youth of our church. We seek to promote the purposes of the organization more than affiliation.

Christian Workers' Training

With the tremendous challenge of need in morals and religious experience throughout the land we have been impressed with the need for improving the quality of teaching in the church. The Commission has through its Secretary of Christian Workers' Training and its Field Secretary revised its Manual of Christian Workers' Training and with new channels of promotion is seeking to give the church another "shot in the arm" for the organization of Christian Workers' Training classes.

Weekday Bible School

The weekday Bible school materials prepared by the Lancaster Conference are continuing to serve this movement, particularly in the eastern section of our church. The Curriculum Committee is making a careful examination of these materials and is laying plans for revision and adaptation of the manuals. In the meantime we seek to encourage congregations to provide instruction on the various age levels in the midweek meeting of the local congregation.

Home Interests

We have been made more keenly aware of the opportunities we have in this area. The Commission has adopted for this year the major emphasis, Building Christian Homes. We are seeking by various means to make the church more aware of its obligation to provide guidance in the area of home building. We are making direct efforts to produce materials that can be used for the strengthening of home life and functions of the home. In co-operation with the Mennonite Publishing House special effort is being made to select the best materials available for promotion throughout our constituency. Members of the Commission and others are making themselves available for conferences on the home and for general promotion of home interests and various types of programs conducted in the local, regional, district, and general meetings.

Mission Education

In co-operation with the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities the Commission continues to encourage the use of its materials, particularly the special mission courses that have been outlined by the Secretary of Missionary Education. This includes We Enter Japan and We Study Latin America as recent materials sponsored from that office. It is the desire of the Commission to capture the imagination and vision of youth with the facts and appeal of the great need of missions. We believe the church must be definitely missionary-minded if she is to continue to grow and serve her purpose in the world.

Junior Activities

The field of junior activities is being explored with the purpose of providing more concrete suggestions for leaders in this area of our church life. A special manual for leaders of juniors is being prepared for the guidance of junior leaders.

Church Music

In the area of church music we have found a large field of opportunity. It is the purpose of the Commission through its Secretary of Church Music and the Field Secretary to promote the teaching of music, to encourage the training of teachers of music, and to sponsor the production of a manual for song leaders that will deal with the methods, techniques, and problems that the average song leader faces in the local congregation. We also hope to produce a manual for music teachers, including discussion of methods in technique in music instruction and a section of teaching materials and exercise materials with workbook. It is our conviction and desire to awaken deeper interest in congregational singing and to provide a general stimulus to the task of leadership in church music.

The work of the Commission has increased in its scope and has enlarged its outreach so that we feel the need for providing a Field Secretary who can give full time to the promotional and study efforts of its work. We believe the church is ready to support such a person when he is made available for the task. We ask your continued support in prayer and finances as well as your counsel in the work of this organization.

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

By Henry F. Garber, President

As one reviews the activities of the past year, he is reminded of the tensions that exist in the world today and of the increased responsibility that rests upon our church. True, there was important advance in the past year, but the ever-present open doors continually challenge us.

Home Missions

"Every congregation a missionary center," was the slogan used by our official organ, Missionary Messenger, this year. Evidence of fruit-bearing is seen in the new work at Kralltown, Shantytown, Steam Valley, Laytonville, and the prospects in northern Pennsylvania. The new church building at Meadville was entirely financed by local funds. A fine old Methodist Church, unused for twelve years, is now available for the Laytonville congregation at no cost except maintenance. There is considerable activity in mission work by colonization. Interest centers mostly in northern Pennsylvania and in our Brewton, Alabama, areas. This is a strategic method for missions when not more than several families locate in a given community. Too large a group is simply the transplanting of a church to a new area and may lack the mission motive.

In New York City a four-story store and apartment house was bought recently. This gives us a permanent address at 200 St. Anns Ave., Bronx. It provides good living quarters in three apartments and a very satisfactory meeting room on first floor. This work serves Puerto Ricans living in New York and is very encouraging. There is also a large Jewish population here and will likely furnish the ground for a further advance by our active Jewish Committee.

Sharon School is the only Christian day school operated by our board. It is carried on in connection with the mission at Ybor City, Tampa, Florida. There are now seventy pupils. It has outgrown its facilities. An adjacent telephone building was bought and remodeled and the school is ready to move in. An adjacent plot of ground was also purchased for playground purposes. There are three teachers. This school is a decided asset to the mission program.

Foreign Fields

There are now fifty-two full-time missionaries on three foreign fields. Work in Luxemburg in Europe will be opened as soon as necessary personnel is available. The Conservative Amish Conference is planning to co-operate with our board in this project. Our board authorized an investigation of Italian Somaliland in East Africa as a possible mission field. The population is about one million. There is no Protestant mission work in the whole country. It is largely Moslem and presents many difficulties, but the need is very great. Several brethren from our Tanganyika field made the study. They report a friendly reception and urge our entry into this field. No action will be taken on this report until 1951.

Tanganyika

There are now thirty-three missionaries on this field and on furlough. After many delays the school for missionaries' children is in process of building near Nyabasi station. This school plant is much needed and the twenty-one children now in school at Bukiroba station live in very crowded quarters. The proposed new station at Mbulu had to be abandoned after the Leathermans had spent about six months on the field. It was a great disappointment but it seemed best to leave it to others. After sixteen years in Tanganyika the mission is enjoying a harvest of souls. During the year four native pastors were ordained, two at Shirati and two in Majita. It is a cause for much rejoicing when the native church can carry a larger share of the responsibility of evangelism.

Ethiopia

This work was opened in 1948. It grew out of the relief program carried on by the Mennonite Relief Committee through the Mennonite Central Committee at Nazareth. At this time there are main stations at Deder and at Bedeno. Three teachers in the government's Medhame Alem Academy are stationed at Harar. At the capital, Addis Ababa, work is being opened with the blind at the request of government. The hospital program at Nazareth will be completely taken over by our board from Mennonite Relief Committee during 1951. There are now seventeen missionaries on this field including two doctors. It is an open door today for the Christian church and we should be ready to enter.

Honduras

On May 12, 1950, George and Grace Miller arrived at Trujillo, Honduras, to open the new mission in this country. It is predominantly Roman Catholic, and our missionaries will face the problems here that are common in Latin America. Dora Taylor, nurse, was recently appointed to this field and will take up her duties in 1951. This foreign field has the advantage of being near to United States, located six hundred air miles from Key West, Florida. The work will be largely among the Carib people who live all along the east coast of Central America. They are Negro by race but they live apart from other Negroes and do not seem to intermarry. The report is that they have been much neglected by Prostestant missions. There is no Protestant missionary within sixty-five miles.

Voluntary Service

Our board set up plans for a voluntary service program last year. Almost one hundred brethren and sisters served in this program this year. Practically all these folks served for periods of less than three months in summer Bible school survey work, mission repair, and upkeep and church building. Plans are under way for new projects that will take longer time, up to a year. Many young people and others seem glad for this opportunity to serve the church.

Conclusion

An expanded mission program requires expanded gifts of personnel and of money. It is gratifying to note the increase of interest in the mission program. Total receipts, at this writing, are ahead of last year, 1949, and will likely exceed $250,000.00. Strictly mission receipts are also ahead of 1949. But it is sobering to know that we have paid out for mission purposes more than we received for mission purposes during the year.

We are living in eventful times. The hearts of many are fearful today. But the Christian has resources that the man of the world cannot know. We need to remember our high calling and keep clear before us the great responsibility of world evangelism that God has laid upon us.

I. RELIEF SECTION

At the end of 1950 there were 138 M.C.C. workers active in seventeen foreign countries. This is eighteen less than one year ago. The needs caused by past wars are still acute and will be for some time, and new needs caused by the present conflict are becoming apparent. It continues to be the aim of this organization to meet this need by making available the contributions to the most needy in the far corners of the world regardless of color, creed, or race.

Far East

Since the Philippine relief unit closed in November, 1950, there are only five units in the Far East. The community center activities at Osaka, Japan, include Bible lessons for both adults and children, English and sewing classes, handicrafts, work with physically handicapped children, child training, and material aid assistance. In Shanghai the main project is the "Free Vocational Center" where teen-agers are taught trades as well as a number of other elementary and practical subjects. At Hengyang the orphanage continues under the direction of the three Chinese Mennonites. The M.C.C. Mobile Clinic is serving many needy people among the aboriginal tribes in the interior of Formosa. The latest reports indicate that the proposed project for T.B. contact children began in Hong Kong the middle of December. The M.C.C. witness in Java is being extended as the workers have time and opportunity. The 20-bed hospital at Djoana approved by the Executive Committee earlier has not been approved by the local government. A medical clinic is open three days each week at Kajuapoe with the number of patients steadily increasing. Medical services are also carried on in other near-by areas.

Middle East

The M.C.C. relief unit in Palestine is now housed in Jericho where there are many needy Arab Palestine refugees. A vocational school opened September 14, 1950. The first subject taught in this school is shoemaking, a skill very much needed among the refugees. Other handicraft subjects will be taught as supplies and workers are available.

Europe

During the past two years in Europe there has been a rapid change from material aid distribution to moral and spiritual rehabilitation. M.C.C. workers have seen the spiritual needs among the people and have adapted the program to meet these needs as much as possible. Considerable assistance has been given to European Mennonites in preparing usable Sunday-school and summer Bible school literature. We are doing what we can to meet the many requests for Bibles and other religious literature.

Community centers continue at Berlin, Heilbron, and Kaiserslautern, Germany, and Vienna, Austria. The emphasis continues to shift more and more from material assistance and self-help to activities of a religious nature such as Bible study classes and summer Bible schools.

The M.C.C. has had ten years' experience working with children in children's homes. The children's home at Nancy has been moved to Valdoie near Belfort, France. Since the Weiler home, also in France, is for sale and since the lease expires next summer the Executive Committee has approved the discontinuance of this project in June. The children's home at Bad Duerkheim in Germany is serving many needy children in that area.

Material Aid

A total of slightly more than 211 tons of clothing were contributed during the past fiscal year. This is approximately 16 per cent less than the previous year. The amount of food shipped during the past year is only slightly less than the year before. This is due to the fact that in early 1950 large shipments were made of foods that were carried over from the previous fiscal year. Food donations in which the donors contributed in carload lots and paid transportation to shipside consists of 153 tons of flour and one carload of beans. Approximately two tons of miscellaneous food were received at our Mountville warehouse.

Clothing collection centers at Ephrata, Newton, Reedley, Kitchener, and Winnipeg continue as before. Food collection centers were closed during the year, but may be set up again if we are to accept food contributions in line with the requests that come in from the workers on the field.

II. MENNONITE AID SECTION

Europe

The hub of the European work is at Gronau where the Mennonite refugees are assembled and processed. The primary purpose of Gronau is that of an immigration camp where people are screened by I.R.O. and immigration officials, after which they move on to the ports of embarkation. The government of Western Germany provides the much needed financial assistance at the rate of 3.05 marks per person per day.

It is estimated that there are about 600 Russian and Galician Mennonites, who are still planning to migrate, living outside the Gronau camp. Each of these presents a problem for the staff because intercession to the immigration teams is necessary to clear the applicant. Additional Mennonite refugees are entering Western Germany from the East, and effort is always made to provide for their needs.

The Danzig and Prussian Mennonite group has been estimated at various figures, but we believe 6,000 persons would be nearly accurate. 700 of these may go to Uruguay to join relatives who preceded them in 1948. Others will be resettled in Western Germany in housing projects which C. L. Graber is helping to arrange. The entire European program is under the general direction of C. F. Klassen.

South America

It has been necessary to curtail seriously the aid projects for South America due to financial limitations, but despite this the colonies have been progressing satisfactorily in building their communities and churches. Recent reports from there indicate that the accomplishments of the immigrants have been tremendous. This past year M.C.C. has provided personnel for various services to the colonies in such fields as education, spiritual ministry, agriculture, and general relief.

The Uruguay immigrants are now becoming established on the 3,000-acre tract at El Ombu. The land has been subdivided and families are now building homes on these sites. Clothing and tools were shipped to Uruguay to assist the settlers in their resettlement.

The M.C.C. program in Brazil centers at Sao Paulo where David and Helen Quapp are in charge of the headquarters' home. The Mennonites in the vicinity of Sao Paulo are taking an increased interest in making the home a center for their social and religious life.

The Buenos Aires center, which is endeavoring to maintain contact with the scattered Mennonites in that city, is now in charge of Martin Duerksen from Fernheim, Paraguay.

Canada and the United States

It is not possible to predict yet how many of the remaining Mennonite refugees in Europe may be able to enter Canada, but the signs are encouraging that the doors may be opening wider. 411 Mennonites from Europe entered Canada in 1950, while in the past four years the total is 5,906.

Since we have been able to bring only 55 Mennonites into the United States in the past year, 380 non-Mennonite refugees, largely from the Ukraine, have been placed with Mennonite sponsors.

Agricultural Trainee Program: Twenty-one Mennonite agricultural trainees are in the United States, placed in Mennonite homes across the country. These young men have entered for one year, and are slated to return to their homes in May, 1951. The program was an outgrowth of the student exchange program, and has been so satisfactory to trainees, their sponsors, and M.C.C. that an enlargement to 50 trainees is planned for 1951.

III. VOLUNTARY SERVICE

1950 was another year of growth and expansion for the Voluntary Service Section in all types of service. During the past year a total of 513 young persons participated in the M.C.C. —V.S. program. There was an increase of 21 one-year persons over the 1949 total, and one new long term project has been added to the program. It is now certain that V.S. is accepted by all and is now finding its expression in many ways through constituent group programs and that of the M.C.C.

Since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea and the increase in inductions for the armed forces, there has been an upsurge of applications at this time, but we are expecting an increase for the constituent group and M.C.C. programs within the near future.

Long-Term Service

United States: During the past year one-year volunteers have served in eight units in the United States. These units were serving in four general areas of need: the mentally ill in mental hospitals; delinquent and dependent children; migrant laborers; and in the area of race relations. Seven of the eight units have volunteers at this time.

Units include community service at Gulfport, Mississippi; Topeka State Hospital, Kansas; Industrial Home School Annex and National Training School for Boys, Washington, D.C.; California Migrant Unit; Kings View Homes, Reedley, California; Brook Lane Farm, Hagerstown, Maryland; and M.C.C. Headquarters, Akron, Pennsylvania.

Foreign Service Units include Bethesda Home, Vineland, Ontario; M.C.C. Clothing and Food Center, Kitchener, Ontario; work with STICA in Paraguay; and a planned project in Peru. Some personnel is also provided for relief work in Europe and Mennonite aid work in Mexico.

Orientation Schools: In 1950 there have been five orientation schools with 37 volunteers. Because of the uncertainty of the future effect of the draft on volunteers, it is not certain how many schools will be held in 1951. Tentative plans are for one every second month.

Winter Service

As in previous years there have been many persons from our groups who have been able to serve from two to six months during the winter months. This year, as last year, we have absorbed these persons into the regular one-year projects. However, the interest in this type of service has shown a definite increase and now appears that additional projects, similar to the summer projects, will have to be provided to care for this need.

Summer Service

There were 336 persons who served in the summer service program: 120 in the U.S.; 64 in Canada; 5 in Mexico; and 147 in Europe. This was three more than during the summer of 1949. In spite of an increase over last summer, the U.S. program had a decrease of 55. This decrease was chiefly in hospital units and was due to an increase in the number of conference projects and the lack of openings in hospital units.

The European program was again worked out in co-operation with the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges. In the six work camps (one in Italy, one in France, and four in Germany) 147 young people participated. Of these, 102 were Europeans.

Committee on Advice and Control

Because of the increased interest in Voluntary Service and the establishment of conference programs a V.S. Committee on Advice and Control was set up on December 2, 1950, by the Executive Committee. This committee is composed of constituent group V.S. directors or someone delegated in his stead and the M.C.C.-V.S. director.

This committee will advise, recommend, and confirm the M.C.C.-V.S. program. It will also have the responsibility of correlating the total V.S. program and keeping the total M.C.C. constituent group V.S. programs within the desired pattern. The committee will also confirm all M.C.C.-V.S. appointees for final acceptance into the M.C.C. program.

IV. PEACE SECTION

In this worsening world situation, the Christian witness of the historic peace churches becomes more and more significant, and more and more needed. The Peace Section has been active in promoting this testimony and in efforts to keep the way clear for the free expression of the deep convictions of our people in all these matters of war and peace.

When the draft extension law was passed in July, 1950, the number of requests for information and help from C.O. registrants increased greatly, although there was no change made in the provisions concerning conscientious objectors.

In the original form of the Registration and Induction of Doctors and Dentists Bill, it was not clear whether the amendment was so worded that the general provisions for C.O.'s would apply in the case of doctors and dentists required to register under this act. Following testimony given by Dr. H. Clair Amstutz, secretary of the Mennonite Medical Association, and others, the language of the bill was amended to make it clear that the general provision for C.O.'s under the Selective Service Act does apply to doctors and dentists registered under this act.

Through the efforts of the Peace Section and others an amendment was accepted which preserves for bona fide religious objectors to military service in any form the privilege of becoming citizens.

N.S.B.R.O. services to its constituent groups, and to all C.O.'s with draft problems, are continuing as formerly. The office is now located at 1000 Eleventh Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., with A. Stauffer Curry, Executive Secretary.

An historic conference of North American Mennonites was held November 9-12, 1950, at Winona Lake, Indiana. Eighty-seven representatives met to give intensive study to our nonresistance doctrine, its Biblical and theological basis, and its implications and application in today's world.

A Conference on the Church and War, called by a committee representing the historic peace churches, was held at Detroit, Michigan, May 8-11. Of the more than 400 delegates, 39 were from the constituent churches of the M.C.C. Another conference of interest was the one held by the Mennonites, Friends, and Brethren at Winona Lake on March 24-26, 1950.

V. MENTAL HEALTH

Brook Lane Farm: On December 2, 1950, the first M.C.C. mental hospital completed its second year as an institution licensed by the State of Maryland. The average number of patients in the past year was 17. Dr. Helmut Prager continues to serve in the capacity of psychiatrist. An outstanding expansion in hospital services has been the addition of Jacob Goering to the staff as a counseling therapist.

Kings View Homes at Reedley, California, was dedicated on Sunday, February 11, 1951, and accepted patients at that time or very soon thereafter. This is the second M.C.C. hospital for the mentally ill. Art Jost will be the director of the hospital, and Jackson C. Dillon, M.D., will take charge of the psychiatric and medical services.

The Central Area Committee will be encouraged to move in the direction of selecting an administrator and a site for the third hospital as soon as there will be relief from the pressure of raising funds for Kings View Homes.

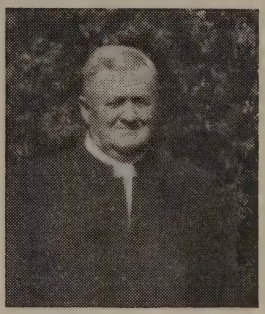
Ira J. Buchwalter, 1870-1950

By David Falb



Bishop Ira J. Buchwalter, son of Daniel and Sarah (Brenneman) Buchwalter, was born May 6, 1870, near Dalton, Ohio, having lived in this community during his lifetime. He passed to his eternal reward, Jan. 3, 1950. His wife died a few months later, April 6, 1950. On Nov. 26, 1891, he married Emma Horst, daughter of Bishop Michael Horst of Orrville. To this union were born two children, Harry and Ruth. Ruth died in early childhood. They were survived by his son Harry and wife (who cared for them during their illness), five grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, one sister, two brothers, and many relatives and friends.

At the age of 17 he began teaching school and taught for eight years. He left an excellent record as a teacher.

He was chosen as one of the Sunday-school teachers at the time when the Sunday school was first organized at the Pleasant View Church, North Lawrence, Ohio, in the year 1889. He was also largely responsible for starting the young people's Bible meeting in 1891 at the same place.

Brother Buchwalter was baptized and became a member of the Mennonite Church on May 4, 1889. He continued faithful to his Lord until death.

On September 16, 1893, he was ordained to the ministry by Bishop John Burkholder, to serve the Martins and Pleasant View congregations. On Aug. 17, 1895, he was ordained bishop by Bishop Joseph Bixler. At the time of his death he was the oldest bishop in number of years of service in the Mennonite Church in United States and Canada.

He held the office of bishop over fifty-four years, and during these years he had served congregations in Wayne, Stark, Medina, Holmes, Columbiana, Mahoning, and Hancock counties. In his active years he took great interest in various church activities, although by occupation he was a farmer.

He conducted many Bible conferences, and frequently was called upon to hold evangelistic meetings in eastern United States and Canada. He frequently served as moderator of the Ohio Mennonite Church Conference and other meetings. He also served as assistant moderator of Mennonite General Conference. A letter from Wakarusa, Ind., dated April 1, 1902, reads thus: "Last Tuesday at the home conference it was decided that Bro. I. J. Buchwalter was to act as bishop in this district—and he expects to begin on the 14th of April."

In 1905-1906 Brother Buchwalter took an active interest in the Canton Mennonite Mission Church, and in 1907 he with Benj. Gerig had charge of the duties as bishop.

At the time of the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination in 1943, he had preached 2,789 sermons and 299 funeral services. He ordained 14 brethren to the ministry, of whom 3 were later ordained to the office of bishop, namely, A. J. Steiner, North Lima, O.; N. A. Lind, Sweet Home, Oregon; and T. K. Hershey, now retired missionary to Argentina. He also assisted in a number of other ordinations.

An injury received early in life in one knee became serious later. In 1914, at the doctor's advice, he went to a hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, for observation and treatment. Amputation of the limb was considered the only possibility for relief and saving his life. To this Brother Ira objected and was brought home.

After months of suffering, he called for the elders of the church. Bishops A. J. Steiner, John Blosser, and John M. Shenk held a very impressive anointing service in the home. The pain left and his life was spared in answer to this service and the special prayer of the church. In all his sufferings he was resigned to the will of the Lord.

However, he was left with a stiff knee. Later, with his general health failing and with his wife also being bedfast, he was kept from his active duties in the church for a number of years.

Friends were always graciously entertained in the Buchwalter home. Often considerable time was spent in singing and prayer. In his visitation work he very seldom went without taking his companion along, and their visits were highly appreciated by young and old as well as the sick and the poor. As a rule they were cheery and short, and as they went they sang and prayed.

Brother I. J. was a great friend of children and often had charge of children's meetings. A report of 1898 shows of such a meeting. He was highly esteemed by all those that knew him well.

In regards to the minister's sacrificial work, the writer recalls incidents which Bro. Ira related occurred forty and fifty years ago in the days of the horse and buggy and mud roads. Sometimes five and six hours were required to travel on Sunday mornings to the congregations in neighboring counties. But he got there "on time." When an urgent call came, he did not consider himself too busy with his farm work, but he went.

A man that worked for Buchwalter related the following incident. He said that at one time a message came in the middle of the afternoon regarding the serious illness of a person. Although I. J. was harvesting wheat, at once he got off the binder seat and gave orders to put the horses in the stable, and in less than a half hour he and his wife were on the way to the home of the sick person. Following is an excerpt from a letter written in 1906: "I never realized what sacrifices our ministers had to make till now. Till he pays me and his carfare and time spent, in one way he will be 'out of pocket,' but the results are much more."

Brother Buchwalter was not without mistakes and faults. He had reverses and hardships, disappointments and discouragements. He was forgiving and courteous to all, young and old. He was very punctual, seldom tardy. He always tried to look on the bright side of life. He was of clean habits and of an unquestionable character.

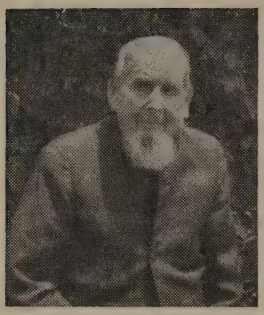
Brother Ira firmly upheld the doctrines of the Bible and the teachings of the Mennonite Church.

I shall give an excerpt from a letter written by T. K. Hershey in 1943 from Argentina. After giving some of his experience with Brother Ira when Brother Hershey was a young man visiting in Wayne County, Ohio, he wrote this: "Bro. Ira—with his earnestness, loyalty, and zeal for the purity of the church was always an inspiration to me." The above statement from Brother Hershey is the conviction of many that came under his teachings and ministry during his active years in the church. He had excellent qualifications as a leader, organizer, and chairman.

A very impressive funeral service was held for Brother Buchwalter on Jan. 6, 1950, at the Pleasant View Mennonite Church near North Lawrence, Ohio, in charge of James Steiner, with A. J. Steiner bringing the message from Deut. 2:3, and Zech. 14:7 (texts selected by the deceased). Six other bishops and ministers from surrounding churches participated in the services.

Jonathan B. Hartzler, 1850-1950

By Simon C. Hartzler



Jonathan B. Hartzler had the unusual experience of living over one hundred years and of seeing the changes which have occurred in our churches, homes, and communities during his lifetime. Bishop Elmer Stoltzfus in his sermon at the memorial service spoke about these changes.

Brother Hartzler saw the German language replaced by the English language with the implications of this change. He saw the change from a congregational form of church administration to an increasingly greater reliance upon conferences. The church service that was primarily a preaching service, usually held once every two weeks with no evening meeting changed to the present church program with preaching service twice on Sunday, Sunday school every Sunday the year around, Y.P.B.M. services each Sunday evening, summer Bible school, all types of conferences, evangelistic meetings, and so on.

He saw the growth of public school education from a few months of school during the winter season when farm work was light to the present compulsory school system with high school and college added. He saw farming methods change from oxen and horses to almost complete mechanization, from horse-and-buggy travel to automobiles and airplanes, from simple necessary house furnishings and candle lighting to modern overstuffed furniture and many electrical appliances and electrical lighting. He saw the growth of reading material for home and church from the Bible, almanac, songbook, and Martyrs' Mirror to the many kinds of reading material made available by our publishing house.

Jonathan B. Hartzler, the son of Preacher David and Barbara (Yoder) Hartzler, was born August 30, 1850, in Fairfield County, Ohio. At the age of three years, he moved with his parents to Noble County, Indiana, by wagon and carriage where he grew to manhood.

When nineteen years old he accepted Christ as his Saviour and united with the Maple Grove Amish Mennonite Church.

In the fall of 1874 he and his parents moved to Logan County near Huntsville, Ohio, where they became charter members of the North Salem Mennonite Church.

On January 16, 1877, he married Esther A. Hooley, daughter of Jacob and Polly (Yoder) Hooley of Lagrange County, Indiana. They lived on the farm with his father for several years near Huntsville, Ohio, and then moved to Indiana near Howe (then called Lima) where they cleared land and built a home.

Ten children were born into the home. Seven are still living: Ida Beechy, Orrville, Ohio; Simon C. Hartzler, Wakarusa, Ind.; Noah D. Hartzler, Goshen, Ind.; Bishop Enos F. Hartzler and Harvey J. Hartzler, Marshallville, Ohio; David J. Hartzler; West Liberty, Ohio; Esther Eigsti, Tiskilwa, Ill.

On May 18, 1879, he was ordained to the ministry at the Pretty Prairie Church. He served this congregation until the spring of 1885 when they returned to Logan County, Ohio, and served as colaborer with his father and Bishop Jonas Yoder at the North Salem Church. In 1886 he served as Sunday-school superintendent at North Salem, Huntsville, Ohio.

In 1904 they moved to the vicinity of West Liberty where he continued the occupation of farming until 1910 when he sold the farm and retired. During this time he also served as minister to the Walnut Grove and South Union churches.

In 1923 they moved to Smithville, Ohio, and in the merger of the A.M. and Mennonite conferences in 1927 he made his home at the Crown Hill Church with his son, Bishop E. F. Hartzler. At this place he preached his last sermon in September, 1941. However, for several years previous he preached only occasionally.

After the death of his companion on Jan. 3, 1946, he made his home with his daughter, Ida Beechy, Orrville, Ohio.

In the early years of his ministry he preached entirely in German. As I remember, he preached his first sermon in English at North Salem Church as a favor to a blind man and his grandchildren who began to attend Sunday school and church services about 1896.

We have a gracious memory of the day when Father celebrated his last birthday and reached the age of one hundred years. Even though the break in his health was evident, he was able to meet and enjoy the many friends who came to greet him. At the end of the day he was not weary but seemed rather to regret that so gracious a day should come to an end.

During the time of open house at the farm home of his son, Harvey, he shook hands and greeted the smallest children as seriously as with bishops, ministers, and deacons. Ever appreciative of people and always a lover of children, he never failed to mention his family and and also his grandchildren in prayer.

Even when not shepherding from the pulpit, his sincere desire was for the purity of the church and its faithful witnessing. He was blessed with a clear memory and was mentally keen even to the last moments of his life. The call to come up higher came on the evening of Nov. 25, 1950, at the age of 100 years, 2 months, 25 days. The memorial service at the Crown Hill Church was without display in accordance with his wishes. Six ordained men carried him to his last resting place as a final tribute to their co-laborer.

Father was deeply spiritual, and, I feel, faithful in service even though there was a large family to care for. He did not shrink from ministerial duties. Since his educational qualifications were very limited, he felt that others could do the work as well or better than he. He and Mother loved singing; they sang many songs from memory. He also led the singing many times in church service, both in German and English. Many times when I awoke early in the morning I heard Father reading aloud from his Bible. I often heard him say that he would study his sermons as he walked a mile and a half to church.

He attended church regularly as long as he could go, even to within a few months of the end of his life. He was in sympathy with the Sunday school and Bible meetings from their beginnings. He attended the A.M. Conference whenever possible. He and his brother C. K. drove with horse and cart to Bluffton, forty miles, to attend the first Sunday-school Conference held in Ohio. He either attended or saw to it that some of the family had the privilege to attend Sunday-school conference yearly.

He seemed to enjoy attending the ministers' home conference. Before revival meetings were regularly held, he went in company with other ministers to Fulton County, Ohio, and Howard County, Ind., where they spent a week or more holding meetings. At one time after he was away on such an occasion, he reported on his return that he had 50 cents more than when he left home.

In early years it was customary for ministers to give testimony to the sermon. Father's testimony usually was short but to the point. One I remember especially, "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good." He gave it with emphasis and then sat down. Visiting ministers were very welcome in the home and were appreciated by the entire family. And it was never too much trouble for Mother Hartzler to set a bountiful table.

May the life and teaching of Father as a servant of Christ serve as an encouragement and challenge to all ministers to continue faithful in their ministry.

Christian V. Martin, 1886-1950

By Harvey E. Shank

For a number of years following the death of Bishop John S. Burkholder the Franklin County district of the Washington Co., Md., and Franklin Co., Pa., Conference had no resident bishop. However, this vacancy was filled at the Chambersburg Mennonite Church, Chambersburg, Pa., on Sept. 28, 1938, when Christian V. Martin was called by God and the church through the lot and ordained to the office of bishop. He was one of a class of eight.

He was ordained to the ministry in 1917 at the Rowe Mennonite Church, Shippensburg, Pa., to assist his father, Joseph H. Martin. We believe he served his congregation well and left it in a healthy, growing condition. Amos E. Martin, his brother, and assistant pastor at Rowe, was left to carry on the work in the local congregation. Since Brother Martin's death Paul C. Martin has been ordained to the ministry for this congregation.

Brother Martin was born Nov. 30, 1886, on a farm near Shippensburg, Pa., to Joseph H. and Lydia Martin. On Nov. 5, 1908, he was married to Sarah Jane Parks, who survives. Brother and Sister Martin were blessed with eight children. Seven are still living; one died in infancy. He with his family have lived during his lifetime in the vicinity of Shippensburg, where he farmed for a livelihood.

His death resulted from peritonitis which followed the removal of his tonsils and appendix, as recommended by the doctors. He died on July 1, 1950, at the Lock Haven, Pa., Hospital following the operation on June 29. Shortly before his death he had called for several elders to anoint him; while they were on their way, he died.

The writer spent several hours with him a few days before the operation, discussing things concerning the welfare of the church. At this time he intimated that one can never tell what may happen when he goes to a hospital, but stated that he had peace and that it was all right with him in whatever the Lord saw best.

The funeral service was held at the Rowe Mennonite Church, July 4, 1950. A large audience, with perhaps more people outside the church than inside, showed that Brother Martin had many friends. He will be greatly missed in his home, the community, the local church, and the conference.

Brother Martin was active in various phases of church work. He served as moderator of his conference since his ordination to the office of bishop in 1938. He was a faithful pastor, shepherd, and overseer in the church. Although firm in his position on the doctrines of the church, yet he had a warm and understanding heart for the penitent.

He had firm convictions for the conservative faith of the church as handed down by our forefathers. He spoke of the blessings of the faith of our ancestry and he believed that what the church is today is largely a result of firmness in the faith. He was deeply concerned that the standards of the Word on the peculiar doctrines as held and practiced by the church be maintained and handed down to the generations to come.

Brother Martin thought for himself and did not quickly agree with a proposition when first presented. He considered how his decisions might work out in the future. He did not hesitate to differ with his best friends if he believed differently. After working with Brother Martin as his assistant for nearly four years, I felt that he would not hold a grudge or resentment against one who differed with him in his views. The spirit of retaliation was not found in him. In ministers' meetings he always desired an expression from each one and would not proceed with a matter unless a nearly unanimous expression of the group was given. He would say, "Unless we are agreed to take up this matter, we will drop it."

He was also missionary minded, believing that the Gospel should be carried to neglected fields. He always encouraged local congregations to work in needy areas. An aged man who confessed Christ in his home refused to attend church even though he could go to the store. Brother Martin said, "I'll go and bring him to church, for it is hard for one to start to church when the habit of his whole life has been not to go to church." The man refused the offer to bring him to church, but came by himself and was baptized and died a member of the church.

As World War II was approaching, he was concerned that the young people be taught the fundamental principles of nonconformity and nonresistance. A series of meetings were planned and instructions were given by the local ministers. This series of meetings was perhaps one reason why none of the boys of this conference went into the armed forces but to C.P.S. Camps.

Brother Martin was a student of the Word of God. He led out in the movement of teaching Bible doctrine, which resulted in the starting of a Bible school several years ago at the Chambersburg Church. The school meets on Tuesday evening for a period of twelve weeks. Ten classes are provided for children and adults. The Lord has blessed this work, and it is hoped that it will be a blessing for years to come.

In 1946 the writer was ordained as bishop to assist Brother Martin in the southern part of the Franklin County district. We have the assurance that he could have said in his last moments, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." May his influence continue for good in the coming generations.

George J. Lapp, 1879-1951

By J. Lawrence Burkholder

Brother Lapp's passing on January 25, 1951, at the age of 71 brought to a close an active life of service for Christ and His church. For nearly forty years he labored on the mission field in India. Returning home in 1945 in retirement, he nevertheless continued to be active in the church by directing the Bible correspondence program of Goshen College and by his frequent visits to the churches far and near.

Brother Lapp was one of eight children born to Samuel W. Lapp and Sarah Gross Lapp. He was born May 26, 1879. The family lived at Juniata, Nebraska, having moved there from Pennsylvania. His mother was a licensed physician. With something of a natural inclination for diagnosis, she studied under a doctor in Pennsylvania and later continued her private studies under the direction of Doctor Ackley at Juniata. It was Doctor Ackley who encouraged her to prepare for the examinations which led to the license permitting her to practice. With an unusual aptitude and with a spirit of consecration she served the Nebraska settlers at a time when depression, drought, and crop failure seemed to be frequent visitors.

Those who remember Brother Lapp as possessing a large frame and a deep voice are surprised to know that his birth weight was two and one-half pounds. Possibly he would not have lived had it not been for the ingenuity of his doctor-mother who wrapped him in a blanket and placed him in an oven. The simple farm home from which he came did not offer more than the very ordinary comforts of life. Times were hard and money was scarce. However, it was a home where Christ was honored. The Christian character in this home may be indicated in part by the fact that the four boys who lived to maturity became ministers of the Gospel in the Mennonite Church. The oldest was Daniel Lapp who alone survives George and who for many years served as bishop of the Mennonite Church at Roseland, Nebraska. Mahlon will be remembered as one of the pioneer missionaries to India and Samuel G. whose life was cut short by a railway accident in 1916 served as bishop of the Mennonite Church at South English, Iowa, and was active in the Missouri-Iowa Conference.

Shortage of funds made it difficult for George Lapp to get an education. After completing eighth grade he worked on the farm and later he attended high school and taught a country school. In 1901, however, he attended the Elkhart Institute and continued his education by entering Northwestern University with the intention of becoming a medical doctor. Here he earned his way by night-nursing, driving a carriage, and tending furnaces. However, he was unable to complete the medical course because of the lack of financial backing. The time spent in medical school was by no means a complete loss since he was able to give more than ordinary assistance to the suffering during the earlier years of his missionary service. There were occasions in India when he was called upon to perform operations such as would under ordinary circumstances be attempted only by fully qualified physicians. His years in Chicago also served to awaken an interest in missions as he helped from time to time with the work of the Home Mission.

This was the time of the beginning of the India Mission. J. A. Ressler and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Page were sent to that starving land in 1899. The following year Brother and Sister Jacob Burkhard joined them. Then in 1901 Mahlon, brother to George, responded to the call to India. Reports of the great need for missionaries came to this country. Finally in response to a personal appeal by J. A. Ressler, Brother Lapp dedicated his life to the India field. On June 25, 1905, he married Esther Ebersole who had completed her nurses' training. Together with Brother and Sister M. C. Lehman they set sail in October of that year.

A larger portion of Brother Lapp's service in India was devoted to the organization and administration of the Bible school at Ghatula. In 1908 he organized a Bible curriculum designed to help selected Indian converts to become able evangelists. The Bible school grew rapidly. In 1913 a plan was adopted whereby the students would spend six months in formal Bible training and the following six months in actual supervised village evangelistic work. Ten years later the enrollment was from 300 to 350.

Several severe disappointments came into Brother Lapp's life. His daughter Pauline passed away at the age of four. On May 7, 1917, Sister Lapp passed away, having been stricken by black water fever. She was buried at Darjeeling at the foot of Mount Everest. Returning to America deeply saddened by the loss of a beloved companion and mother of his daughters Lois and Harriet, he spent the larger portion of his furlough as President of Goshen College. Kind friends and relatives opened their homes to Lois and Harriet.

In 1920 Brother Lapp married Fanny H. Hershey of Manheim, Pennsylvania, who had already served one term in India. Their companionship remained rich and comforting until severed by Brother Lapp's death. Together they labored in India until 1945 when Brother Lapp's illness required their return to America in 1945.

Besides organizing the Bible School which was later amalgamated with the Academy at Dhamtari, Brother Lapp was for a time superintendent of the Shantipur Leper Home. Also upon their return to India in 1940 they were engaged in evangelistic work while in charge of the Balodgahan Colony. Previous to this, Brother Lapp was interested in the problems of rural India and was requested by the National Christian Council to make a study of rural life. This led to the publication of a book entitled, The Christian Church and Rural India.

In 1943 Brother Lapp's active service was interrupted by a stroke which resulted in partial paralysis. For a while he could not walk but gradually his strength was regained so that he could walk by use of a cane. It was therefore necessary for the fifth term of service to be shortened. It was felt that relief from the awful heat of India as well as responsibility would help him to recover. Therefore they joined several hundred other missionaries as they boarded the Gripsholm for America.

Brother Lapp regained his health to a remarkable degree. One of the joys which followed their return was the opportunity to build a small house at Goshen where they could retire. Fortunately he was able to drive for long distances until a few months before his death. This enabled him to visit many of the churches throughout the East and West. By participating at missionary meetings, Bible conferences and various programs, he was able to turn his retirement into active service for the Lord. Also much of his time was spent with his typewriter as he wrote articles for the church papers. From his intimate knowledge of the Bible and his varied experiences in India he gathered materials for many articles. Further, he was made responsible for the Bible correspondence program of Goshen College, a program which grew under his direction.

One of Brother Lapp's characteristics was his interest in Bible study. Although financial limitations cut short his medical training during his youth, he did take advantage of educational opportunities during his furloughs. He attended Bethany Theological Seminary in Chicago during his furlough of 1929 and 30. By this institution he was granted the M.R E. (Master of Religious Education) degree. His interest in Biblical studies continued into his retirement as he took courses leading to the B.D. degree, which he received in 1947.

It can be said that Brother Lapp served the church until the very day of death. Although he had been suffering from heart attacks for several months, nevertheless he continued to carry on as best he could as bishop in charge of the Holdeman Mennonite Church near Wakarusa, Indiana. It was his joy to ordain Brother Simon Gingerich to be pastor of that congregation. The appreciation of his services to that congregation is indicated by the many kind gestures of its members during the few months of illness preceding his death.

Brother Lapp's life is one which can be characterized as victory in Christ. His responsibilities in India were strenuous. The disappointments and heartache which come to the pioneer missionary were Brother Lapp's lot. Nevertheless he remained true to his commission being daunted only by illness. His faith was strong and his sincerity was beyond question. He loved people, and his personable manner remained with him to the end. His passing was characterized by the peace which is the heritage of the saints. With Paul he could say, "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain."

Amos Hershey Leaman, 1878-1950

By Harold Zehr

In the passing of A. H. Leaman the Mennonite Church lost one of her pioneers in city mission work. Probably he did more than any one other man of his generation in arousing interest in city mission work among the Mennonite and Amish Mennonite churches of the Middle West.

Amos Hershey Leaman was born near Gordonville, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, on Feb. 18, 1878, the third in the family of eight children of Jacob B. and Anna Barbara (Hershey) Leaman. He received his early education in the local grade and high school and took one year of work at the Millersville State Normal School. He was converted under the ministry of John S. Coffman, Nov. 3, 1896, and was received into the Mennonite Church, Nov. 20, by Bishop Isaac Eby.

He felt a definite call for mission work and began to make preparations to go to Chicago ten days after his baptism. He finally left home on Dec. 28 with insufficient funds to reach Chicago, but with great faith. He stopped at Scottdale for a two-week Bible conference and finally arrived at the Home Mission at 145 W. 18th St. (later numbered 639 W. 18th St.) on Jan. 11, 1897. He taught a Sunday-school class and assisted in the work in general. He took various odd jobs to support himself, having little or no financial support from the church. He impressed the workers and committee in charge of the Mission with his zeal and ability.

Several years later he was appointed superintendent and was ordained to the ministry by Bishop John Nice on April 7, 1902. On June 22 of the same year he married Amanda Eby, of Columbus Grove, Ohio, who at intervals had also previously served as a worker at the Mission. During their years at the Mission, four children were born. To quote one of the daughters, "The Home Mission years were full, rich, and happy ones for the Leaman family."

During this period the Sunday-school attendance reached the peak of 500 and the old mission building was "bursting at the seams." The mission board authorized Brother Leaman to secure a suitable location for a new building and to raise funds for it. This new building at 1907 S. Union Avenue was dedicated on Jan. 5, 1919. Some of the work conducted by the Mission under the leadership of Brother Leaman included a fresh-air program in which city children were sent for a two-week vacation to Mennonite homes in the country, Christmas dinners for the city Sunday-school attendants from food supplied by the country churches, annual Sunday-school picnics, midweek services, cottage prayer meetings, German services, and the Gospel Wagon from which converted men gave their testimony.

Work among the adults flourished. The fresh-air work, the Christmas dinner program, and his evangelistic work and missionary appeals throughout the churches in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, aroused great interest in city mission work. He served for many years as field worker for the Illinois Mennonite District Mission Board. During these years at the Mission, Brother Leaman attended the Chicago Theological Seminary for three years and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1915.

In August, 1920, he left the Home Mission accepting a call from Dr. James M. Gray to serve as assistant director of practical Christian work of Moody Bible Institute, later to become director of this department and an instructor in personal evangelism. In this capacity he assigned each student some Christian work such as teaching a Sunday-school class, or assisting in visitation work, jail services, street meetings, rescue mission work or meetings at the noon lunch hour in large factories. In 1930 under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute he traveled in England and Scotland preaching and studying missions.

In 1932 Brother Leaman left the Institute but continued to be an influence for Christ in the city for another eighteen years. One of his activities during this period of his life was assisting in arranging for the first Chicago Easter Sunrise Service held in Soldiers' Field in 1933 in which about twenty thousand persons participated. This sunrise service has since become an annual affair.

Another burden he now found time to develop was the idea of a noonday evangelistic meeting in the Chicago loop area. He organized a group of Christian business men into the Christian Business Men's Committee and served as the first president of that committee. A noonday meeting was begun in 1932 in a large theater in the loop and the programs were broadcast over the radio. Many men found Christ through the services conducted there by leading evangelists. This program also has continued with some modification until the present. As an outgrowth of the Chicago Christian Business Men's Committee there are similar organizations in many cities, and an International Christian Business Men's Committee has been organized.

He was asked to become superintendent of the Lydia Children's Home in Chicago after it had become involved financially and had lost its state license because of conditions in the home. Brother Leaman, who had always had a great concern for homeless children, accepted the challenge; and through the help of his many friends he was able to restore its financial rating and secure a license for it again. He then turned the work over to others.

During this period he also served the Cullom Mennonite Church by filling the pulpit, either personally or by sending someone, for a number of years when they were without a resident minister. He also served as pastor of the Ravenswood Mennonite Church in Chicago for ten years.

In 1946 a fellowship dinner was arranged by friends commemorating fifty years of mission work in Chicago by Brother Leaman. It was attended by approximately 500 persons from all walks of life, including church leaders of his own church, other city pastors, Bible teachers, Christian business men, converts from the city, and many rural Mennonite friends. For three years following—1947, 1948, 1949—he arranged a Men's Missionary Meeting and dinner for Mennonite men annually in December. These meetings were of inspirational nature and helped arouse interest in missions and evangelism.

His passion for the lost, his power in evangelism, and concern for the unfortunate and discouraged, together with his intimate knowledge of the city of Chicago, made him a much loved man by many in and out of the city. He was instrumental in placing many children in Mennonite homes for adoption; in reaching many drunkards, dope addicts, criminals, and despondent men and women for Christ; as well as encouraging many young men to enter the ministry and mission work. Although during the last half of his service in Chicago many of his activities were outside the Mennonite Church, he always made it a point to keep in touch with the activities of his own church. He conducted many evangelistic meetings throughout the Mennonite Church and attended meetings of the conference and mission board regularly.

His fifty-four years of active service for the Lord came to a close on May 27, 1950, at the age of seventy-two following a seven-month illness. Funeral services were conducted by A. C. Good of Sterling, Illinois, and A. E. Kreider, of Goshen, Indiana. His body was laid to rest in Irving Park Cemetery, Chicago. His wife preceded him in death on January 15, 1938.

He had visions of mission work which were often beyond the views of his brethren to the extent that some of them failed to materialize, but there are in existence today several projects which stand as a monument to the vision he possessed. May the Lord raise up more men of faith and vision for mission work.

John S. Mast, 1861-1951

By Grant Stoltzfus

In the last two generations God gave to the Mennonite Church a number of devoted leaders who guided the church through great changes and into broad fields of service. One of those men was John S. Mast of Elverson, Pa. Brother Mast's long life spanned nearly a century, and of his 89 years, over 50 were spent in a rich and fruitful ministry that extended over many areas of the Mennonite Church.

He was born on Nov. 3, 1861, of devout Amish parents, John M. Mast and Rebecca Stoltzfus Mast, near Morgantown, Pa., the community in which he lived, labored, and died. He was a direct descendant of Bishop Jacob Mast who was born in Switzerland in 1738 and came to America in 1750.

His early years were spent on his father's farm and in the community where he went to school. At the age of seventeen he attended Miss Bertolet's private school in Morgantown.

At about the age of 18 he was baptized. Since all the Amish in this vicinity still worshiped in homes, this ceremony took place in a home. The ceremony was performed by John P. King of West Liberty, Ohio, who also preached the sermon for the occasion. In 1882, when the first building for the Conestoga A.M. Church was erected, young Mast was 21 years old. He helped haul the logs and stones which were used to build the church where he was later to play an important part.

He was married in 1885 to Christina Zook, and God blessed them with 51 years of married life. To this union three children were born, two of whom died in infancy. A son, Christian Z. Mast, local historian and author, survives him as do three grandsons and several great-grandchildren.

In May, 1894, John S. Mast was ordained to the ministry and from this time until strength failed he gave of himself and his talents to the church he loved.

He often remarked in later years that until he stood up to preach his first sermon he had never addressed a public audience. His sermon was, of course, in the German language and he began by repeating the Beatitudes and then preaching from Hebrews 11:1. Many of his audience were in tears, but this he always claimed was a proof that his people were praying for their young minister.

His Role in the Eastern A.M. Conference

In 1898 he attended his first conference at Walnut Creek, Ohio. As long as he was able he attended the annual conference, missing only a few years. In 1921 and 1933 he served as moderator and in 1911, 1912, 1929, 1932, and 1934 he was assistant moderator. He preached his first conference sermon in 1903 and, in all, he preached the conference sermon a total of ten times, oftener than any other member. In 1906 he was appointed to a committee to plan for mission work at Altoona. In 1907 he was elected as the Eastern A.M. Conference delegate to the Indiana-Michigan Conference.

In the early part of 1900 Brother Mast began a wide ministry as a speaker in Bible conferences. He preached in every Ohio church of the A.M. branch and in many of the Mennonite churches. On one occasion he was absent from home for five weeks and preached every night but two. At the end of the five weeks he collapsed from nervous strain.

His name appeared as early as 1912 on the committee that encouraged the merging of the Eastern A.M. Conference and the Ohio Mennonite Conference. In an interview with the writer S. E. Allgyer commented that John S. Mast was a "leading member of the conference for many years."

In 1908 Brother Mast was elected to the office of bishop and ordained. (His ordination to the ministry, however, had been by lot.) His work as bishop called for much travel and the following churches were in his charge: Conestoga at Morgantown, Pa.; Millwood and Maple Grove at Gap and Atglen, Pa.; Long Green, Md.; Westover, Md.; Mattawana, Pa.; Oyster Point, Va. In days when travel was slow he made many journeys as a faithful shepherd to serve these scattered congregations. But his work was one which he loved. A member of the Providence Church at Oyster Point quotes Bro. Mast as often saying at the time of communion: "I would not take the finest farm in my home county for this experience."

His Role in General Conference and the Church at Large

John S. Mast took a part in church-wide activities and always had an appreciation for the part which the General Conference played in the over-all program of the church. The records show that he led the opening devotions of General Conference session held at Yellow Creek Church, Goshen, Ind.

In 1927 he was elected to a term as assistant moderator of General Conference. In 1937 he attended General Conference at Turner, Oregon, and in doing so realized a lifelong desire to visit the brotherhood in the Far West. Such occasions brought him great inspiration, and members of his home congregation testify to the way in which his messages and ministry were enriched by these church-wide contacts. When called on to speak at the Turner Conference he said among other things: "One thing especially gives me courage. It is that there are young men (and they are her today) who are still standing for the principles of the Word of God, for the principles of the Mennonite Church."

Much could be said of Brother Mast's labors as an evangelist in different parts of the United States and Canada. He was used in certain churches because of his ability to speak the German language. In 1921 he conducted a series of meetings at Eastern Mennonite School which in the last night saw over 125 confessions.

A Builder of His Home Congregation

In 1900 the membership of the Conestoga Mennonite Church numbered about 100. In 1951 this church and its daughter congregations, Rock and Oley, number over 500 members. Members of these churches agree that Brother Mast's devoted ministry did much to bring about this increase. He introduced Sunday school, Bible meetings and Bible conferences, sewing circles, evangelistic meetings, and summer Bible school. In his congregation the young people had a chorus which he encouraged in its annual Christmas singing. With his approval a literary society was also founded.

Nowhere was Brother Mast more influential than as a preacher in the pulpit. He was the first of his group to speak from a text instead of speaking from a chapter or subject. He was also the first to use notes in preaching. He was the first to preach on "assurance." John L. Stauffer comments that the first message he ever heard on the second coming of Christ was by Brother Mast.

From John F. Funk at Elkhart, Indiana, Brother Mast secured German works on theology in the early years of his ministry. One of these was Dextel's Bibel Werk. Later he became a very faithful reader of Talmage's sermons in the Christian Herald. These two sources, one German and the other English, did much to enrich Brother Mast's preaching. Though criticized for introducing new methods of preaching, he nevertheless kept on and soon won the favor of his congregation and the Mennonite Church.

He was a gifted speaker who studied his audience. He spoke distinctly and earnestly. His gestures were easy and natural and his voice had the ring of an orator. When he read from the Bible his audience listened attentively, for he knew how to read well.

On a Sunday morning when he was to preach there was expectation on the part of the congregation. He knew this and seldom was this expection to go unfulfilled. He would step to the pulpit and begin by announcing his subject and by reading his text. He then went on to expound from the Bible and make practical applications. Facing one part of his audience and then turning to another part he drove home his points so forcefully that no one, young or old, saved or unsaved, could fail to be impressed.

At baptismal or marriage services he conducted the ceremony in a most fitting and impressive manner. "To walk in newness of life" was a favorite phrase of Brother Mast's and he always spoke it with earnestness on occasions of baptism.

His illustrations were apt and original and came from wide reading, close observation, and an alert mind. When he finished his sermon he sat down; his sermons were never long. Over fifty years of such preaching, first in German and after 1920 in English, did much to plant conviction in the hearts of two generations. With his passing an eloquent voice is stilled.

Nor was Brother Mast's ministry in his community limited only to his own people. He earned a respect among the other denominations of the valley where he lived. In one year he preached 19 funeral sermons in local churches, the Methodist being the most common. Even families of the formal St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church in Morgantown would request him to take part in funeral services for their members.

In a time that saw many changes and transitions, Brother Mast skillfully kept a unity in his congregation. He was steadfast in his convictions and believed that church membership was a serious matter. Where he felt it necessary he used disciplinary measures. Looking back over his life and labors one might say that he was flexible in methods but fixed in purpose.

His Last Years

Brother Mast's last sermon was preached in November, 1945. After that he steadily declined though he often attended church and was always eager for visitors. His interest in the church continued as long as he had strength of body and mind. As the end drew near he became eager to go.

Death came on January 3, 1951, after many months of confinement to a sickbed. Attending the funeral were many men whom he had ordained to the ministry, and hundreds whom he had baptized or married. He was laid to rest in the ancestral Pine Grove Cemetery that overlooks the original Mast homestead. He had fought a good fight, he had finished his course, he had kept the faith. More than this, he has inspired countless others to do likewise.

Jacob A. Shenk, 1900-1950

By Linden M. Wenger and Others

Jacob Andrew Shenk was born February 17, 1900, at Denbigh, Virginia, the son of Abram P. and Fannie Coffman Shenk. Jacob was the fifth of seven children, of whom six grew to maturity. When Jacob was only four years old, these children were left motherless. By the father's second marriage four other brothers and sisters were added to the family.

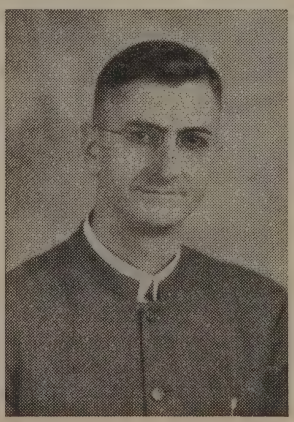
Abram Shenk was a pioneer settler of the Mennonite colony at Denbigh, and Jacob's birth was the third to occur in the new colony. For many years Abram Shenk served as a deacon in his home congregation.

Jacob was converted at the age of twelve and was received into the membership of the Warwick River Church. While still in his teens, Jacob was a member of an organized quartet, and as a young man he sometimes conducted singing classes for the young people of the community. As a boy he had a passion for neatness and orderliness. He had an inventive turn of mind and often devised ways of lightening or speeding up his assigned tasks.

At the age of twenty he enrolled as a student at Eastern Mennonite School, Harrisonburg, Virginia, in whose development he was later to play so large a part. In 1922 he was graduated from the elementary Bible course and in 1927 from the high school. At school he took part in the music, literary, and Christian service activities of the school.

To help pay his school expenses, he took a part-time job at the Park Hatchery. Here he found an occupation to his liking. When school days were over, he continued with the hatchery as a full-time worker, serving about ten years in all. In 1933 he purchased a small hatchery and started in the hatchery business. From this small beginning he built up in seventeen years a hatchery business that rates as the largest in the state of Virginia.

On December 8, 1926, he was married to Lucy B. Wenger, to which union were born four children, Paul, James, Virginia Ann, and Ellen. As a husband and father, he had a deep concern for his family and their spiritual welfare, and he cherished their love and devotion to him. He put forth Herculean efforts to prevent the duties of church and business life from interfering with his duties as a husband and father.



During all his mature years he was engaged as a teacher or superintendent in the Sunday-school work of his home district, serving sometimes in the mountain churches, sometimes at home. In 1940 he was ordained as a deacon. For a number of years he prepared the calendar for the ministerial body of his home district, giving the task to another man a short while before his death.

He took great interest in his home congregation at Lindale. When the church building was remodeled in 1949, he assumed a large share of the responsibility in the work. In 1942 he was elected to the Board of Trustees of Eastern Mennonite College and also to the Virginia Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. He served on both of these organizations until his death. As a member of the Board of Trustees he served on a number of standing committees, particularly those related to the financial affairs of the College. As chairman of the building committee he assumed a large share of the responsibility for planning and administering the building program of the School. Building during this period included the large chapel-auditorium and the new women's dormitory.

Doubtless his most outstanding service to the work of the church was his able leadership on the Virginia Mission Board, of which he was president since 1943. Under his direction an expanding work was carried on in Kentucky, Tennessee, Newport News, Harrisonburg, and Richmond. He gave unselfishly of his time and effort to organize and administer the work, manifesting at all times a great concern for the welfare of the workers on the field and for the mutual relationship between the Board and the church at large. As president of the Mission Board, Brother Shenk became a member of the General Mission Board on which he rendered valuable service as a member of the Hospital Planning Committee.

It is the feeling of some who worked with Brother Shenk through the years that his most unique and far-reaching contribution in life was made through his testimony as a Christian business man. He made many contacts with employees, customers, and flock owners. He tried always to keep their welfare uppermost in his mind, and his fairness and understanding were reflected in the co-operation and confidence which he received in return from all who were in any way associated with the business.

Brother Shenk learned to know many men in the business world. Often they were men who knew nothing of Mennonites and their way of life. He would many times go out of his way to give a testimony to these people, explaining to them just why he did or did not do certain things.

Several years ago he was asked to speak at a meeting of the Southeastern Poultry and Egg Association held at Atlanta, Georgia, on "The Hatcheryman's Responsibility," as it related to poultry improvement. In the message he said, "I firmly believe that one can be a good Christian and also a good businessman at the same time. Every Christian, and especially every Christian businessman realizes the absolute need of having regular periods when he can cast off his business cares and spend time in Christian service and in worship. One cannot be a successful Christian without that any more than one can be a successful businessman without spending any time or energy in the promotion of that business. If we allow business conventions and other business activities to crowd in on the Lord's Day and take away from us the time that we should have to develop our spiritual lives, I am afraid the time will come when we will not have any Christianity to mix with business." This testimony was given because the Association had held a meeting on Sunday.

As increasing duties in connection with his business and church interests required more and more of his time away from home, Brother Shenk became interested in the advantages of air travel. Accordingly he took training to become a pilot, and a number of years ago purchased his own plane. He used his plane extensively and he was known as a skillful and careful pilot. On March 24, 1950, he and Melvin Weaver went to Knoxville, Tennesse, on business for the Virginia Mission Board. It was on the return trip that these men met with a fatal accident. Exactly what happened cannot be known. It is thought that the plane encountered violent air disturbances and was thrown out of control. The maneuvering plane broke up in midair, throwing both men to their deaths.

Perhaps few men possess the ability to relate the whole of life to the service of the Lord as he did. In church duties, in business life, or in his own home, he undertook only those things which he could feel confident would bring honor and glory to God. To the church he gave his time willingly, and served faithfully, efficiently, and co-operatively.

His sense of stewardship was one of his outstanding qualities. He earnestly tried to be a good steward because of a deep sense of divine call. This was his talent and this talent he consecrated unreservedly to Christ and the church. He did not seek recognition because of his gifts. In fact he literally did not let his left hand know what his right hand did.

We must believe that because of his untimely death others will be led to follow Christ as he followed Him, and that men with ability in business an dtalent in administration will through the testimony of his life be led to consecrate these gifts to the Lord as he had so fruitfully done.—From articles which appeared in Christian Monitor and Missionary Light.
